An elite integrator and systems builder: a translator between boardroom vision and field execution teams.

Islam Mahrous

International Executive Consultant

Across thirty-five years leading major operations for the world's leading brands — Marriott, Accor, Starwood, and InterContinental — one truth has held firm: operational excellence is a deep commitment to genuine partnership, not a set of figures presented to a board.

As an independent consultant and change agent, and a certified Six Sigma Black Belt in continuous improvement, I place data-driven decisions and global field experience at your disposal, so that together we build an institution that exceeds your ambitions, whatever its size or sector.
